BRITAIN ASKS
DISCUSSION OF
JAP CONTROLBIG FIVE MEETING
IN WASHINGTON PROPOSED

London, Sept. 25 (AP)—Tentative plans for a December meeting of an Allied control commission for Japan have been presented to the big five council of foreign ministers, it was learned authoritatively tonight. The meeting would be in Washington.

The proposal, originally put forward by the British, has been neither accepted nor rejected by the United States, reliable informants said.

While the subject is not being discussed at formal sessions, it forms an important background for the talks.

Checkup On Mac Arthur

Authoritative sources said the British plan was put forward several weeks ago but withdrawn yesterday. Pressure exerted by the dominions, particularly Australia, forced the British cabinet to withdraw its support of the measure.

These are the recent developments on formation of such a commission: Soviet Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov demanded that the council set up an Allied commission to lay down policy for General Douglas MacArthur. His move came after Washington announced that the United States would be supreme in deciding Japanese occupation plans.

United States Secretary of State James F. Byrnes refused to discuss the question, saying he was unprepared and that the Pacific was not in the Big Five agenda.

In view of difficulties with the Soviet Union over matters directly affecting British Mediterranean interests, the British reportedly decided to string along with the United States in the Pacific and abandon its request for a control commission meeting in Washington.

Australia Protests

It was learned from officials here today that the Australians, bitterly objecting to the change in British policy, delivered a note to the British cabinet stating they would insist on the right to participate in the determination of occupation policy.

According to reliable reports, the British reconsidered and decided to request once more establishment of a control commission. The plan still is in such a hazy state that it is not clear who would be invited to Washington. One source suggested it be limited to Britain, the Soviet Union, the United States, China and Australia.

Unless Secretary Byrnes receives instructions from President Truman, which seems unlikely at this late date and on such short notice, it is considered improbable that any decision will be reached before the foreign ministers leave in the next day or two. The subject undoubtedly will be taken up in diplomatic exchanges, however. Persons in a position to know what has happened in the meetings of the foreign ministers, which are close to the press, said Molotov's move in demanding an Allied commission for Japan was a reflection of Soviet dissatisfaction with what the Russians regard as MacArthur's policy toward the "old gang" in Japan, especially the industrialists.

Chrysler and UAW
Open Conferences
On Wage Increase

Detroit, Sept. 25 (AP)—The United Automobile Workers (CIO) Union and Chrysler Corporation opened conferences today on the union's demand for a 30 per cent wage increase.

As the meetings began, Norman News, UAW national director, Chrysler units, announced that a petition for a strike vote among the corporation's 80,000 workers had been filed with the National Labor Relations Board.

A strike vote on October 24 among more than 300,000 General Motors workers already has been approved and the union is preparing to petition for one among 109,000 Ford Motor Co. employees.

Chrysler was the first of the automobile industry's "Big Three" to meet with the union, which has begun a drive for a major wage increase for more than half a million men and women in the nation's car industry.

Whether strikes would follow affirmative votes among the workers remained uncertain. Some union spokesmen have asserted work stoppages would not be ordered as long as negotiations were under way. The same spokesmen expressed confidence that Ford and General Motors eventually would enter negotiations.

When today's Chrysler conferences halted for luncheon, Robert W. Conder, company labor relations director, told news writers in answer to questions that he had not agreed to the 30 per cent increase and had made no counter proposals.

Meanwhile union officials arranged for a mass meeting Friday night of the 4,500 Kelsey-Hayes Wheel Co. strikers, whose walk-out more than a month ago touched off most of the current work stoppages in the Detroit area. R. J. Thomas, UAW president and other top officers of the union, will address the workers in an effort to persuade them to end their unauthorized strike.

The Kelsey-Hayes strike was largely responsible for the closing down of the Ford Motor Company's automobile production lines and the layoff of 50,000 employees. It followed the refusal of the Kelsey-Hayes management to reinstate three minor union officials whose dismissal for participating in the election of a foreman had been upheld by the War Labor Board.

ARMY SLASHES
ARE ANNOUNCED

Cut From 8,000,000 To 1,950,000 By Next July Is Goal

Washington, Sept. 25 (AP)—Government plans to reduce the army from more than 8,000,000 men at the close of the war to 1,950,000 by June 30, 1946, were disclosed by President Truman today.

This is 550,000 below previous estimates of the army's strength for the start of the next fiscal year, July 1. The previous estimates were made before a House committee August 28 by Maj. Gen. I. H. Edwards, assistant chief of staff.

The revised figure was contained in a letter to Congress by the president recommending that $28,692,772,000 be lopped off current army appropriations, which now total upwards of $60,000,000,000. The savings result from postwar curtailment of army personnel and supplies.

Another $500,000,000 will be turned back to the treasury by the war department from unneeded funds in special replacing accounts, the president said. He added he will continue to review army needs and "recommend such further adjustments as conditions warrant."

Washington, Sept. 25 (AP)—The Senate today confirmed the appointment of Robert P. Patterson of New York, as secretary of war. Action was by voice vote.

AKRON RUBBER
STRIKE ENDED;
15,000 RETURNQUICK SETTLEMENT
OF OIL WORKERS
TIEUP SOUGHT

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
One of the big labor disputes—the 22-day rubber strike in Akron—ended yesterday and plants were ready to receive 15,000 production workers today.

Important labor developments elsewhere included:

1. Government, management and labor representatives gathered at a conciliation meeting in Chicago aimed at a prompt ending of the seven-state CIO oil workers strike.

2. The house ways and means committee set aside all legislation proposing liberalization of unemployment compensation in view of the current wave of reconversion strikes.

3. Nearly 30,000 coal miners in Pennsylvania and West Virginia were away from the pits, supporting supervisors in their demand for recognition of their union.

4. Strike settlements, including the B. F. Goodrich company dispute in Akron, were offset by new disputes and the unofficial tabulation placed the national total of persons idle in labor controversies at 343,528.

Shortages Threatened
In Chicago, Justice William L. Knox of the Colorado supreme court, head of a three-man conciliation panel, said he was "hopeful of a quick settlement" of the CIO oil workers' strike for a 30 per cent wage increase.

The strike involves 30,000 workers in seven states and has threatened some communities with a gasoline shortage.

Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach telegraphed Justice Knox: "Your meeting must not be permitted to fail." He said the oil and gasoline reserves would be depleted "in a very few days" and that the military and civilian transportation systems were threatened.

The labor-management conference was the first important test of the Truman administration's postwar wage policy under a reorganized labor department and a strengthened conciliation service.

Members of the house ways and means committee voiced alarm at the idleness in spreading strikes and shelved legislation proposing liberalization of unemployment compensation.

The committee action postponed indefinitely all further consideration of jobless pay expansion.

There appeared no immediate prospect of settling the two-day strike of AFL elevator operators and building service employees that spread gradually, stopping up-and-down transportation in 1,996 New York office and loft buildings. Some 15,000 workers were idle.

Trailer Camp Not
Wanted In Lansing;
City Takes Action

Lansing, Sept. 25 (AP)—Members of the city council Monday night voted to ask the Federal Housing Authority to remove from the city a trailer housing project which has been let by the government to Michigan State College to accommodate families of married veterans attending the college.

The council instructed the city attorney to start action to have the trailer camp, located on South Lyons Avenue at the city limits, as well as another project on North Grand River Ave., moved outside the city. The trailer camp, planned to house war workers in the Lansing area, has never been used.

President John Hannah of Michigan State College said he had not been informed of the council's intention to have the project removed and that he considered the action of the council members "rather hasty."

He said veterans attending the college were being assigned there through the counselor for men and that a serious housing shortage existed for the approximately 130 married veterans at M. S. C.

Occupation Of Nippon
May Last Many Years,
Gen. Mac Arthur Says

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Tokyo, Sept. 25 (AP)—General MacArthur declared today that Japan might be occupied "many years" although the conquering force would be small "under favorable conditions"—presumably if the fallen empire behaves.

Faced by the stark prospect of mass starvation this winter, the Japanese ministry of agriculture announced that all but 75,000 of the 1,225,000 acres of mulberry trees that fed the silk worms would be plowed up for food crops.

The Nippon Times reported that MacArthur had moved in on Japan's moving picture industry with an order banning films of a militaristic or ultra-nationalistic character.

Heavily-armed combat veterans swarmed ashore into the port of Amori, extending the occupation of Japan to the northern tip of the main home island of Honshu.

The army announced that more than 20 suspected Japanese war criminals would be moved to the same island prison in Tokyo Bay that once housed American war prisoners. It was undecided whether to put former war Dictator Hideki Tojo in that Spartan prison too.

The head of Domei, stripped of MacArthur of its monopolistic prerogatives said he would recommend to directors the disbanding of this news and propaganda agency.

MacArthur's statement on the length of occupation was in the form of an elaboration of a signed article by Ted Dealey, president of the Dallas, Tex., Morning News in which the supreme commander was quoted as saying the army of occupation might be withdrawn in six months "if we are not too ruthless and cruel."

A headquarters spokesman said this impression was incorrect, and "what he (MacArthur) said was that occupation forces, under favorable conditions, could be reduced to minimum size in six months."

"He has stated," the spokesman continued, "that the occupation itself might last many years."

LUMBER STRIKE
TIGHTENING UPSailors Union Will Not Bring Cargos Through
AFL Picket Lines

Portland, Ore., Sept. 25 (AP)—The 60,000 striking AFL Northwest Lumber Workers were notified today that the AFL Sailors Union of the Pacific would sail no ships with strike-bound lumber.

A telegram from Harry Lundberg, secretary-treasurer of the Sailors Union at San Francisco, advised that "No members of our organization will sail ships into sawmills or docks where a bona fide AFL picket line is established."

Kenneth M. Davis, executive secretary of the AFL Northwest Council of Lumber and Sawmill Workers, said the action would halt a large share of lumber movement.

David Beck, Seattle AFL teamster boss, reiterated his statement that Washington teamsters would not haul retail yard lumber which his fellow-AFL leader has declared "hot cargo."

At Portland, where retail yards are considered strike-free by both teamsters and sawmill workers, the AFL reported no change in the strike which has paralyzed 40 per cent of the northwest's lumber industry.

The AFL, whose strike policy committee convenes here Thursday, reported no indication of operators accepting the industry-wide $1.10 hourly minimum asked.

Truman Schedules
Navy Day Address
In New York City

Washington, Sept. 25 (AP)—President Truman will go to New York City October 27 to participate in the Navy Day celebration and deliver a 20-minute address.

Press Secretary Charles G. Ross announced plans for the president's New York visit.

He said the president will leave Washington by Pennsylvania railroad about midnight October 26, arriving in New York early the next day.

Plans call for him to go from the New York Pennsylvania station to the Brooklyn navy yard by automobile for a brief speech at a ceremony commissioning the 45,000-ton carrier, the Franklin D. Roosevelt.

This speech, to be made from the flight deck of the carrier, will last about five minutes, but will be followed later in the day by a 20-minute Navy Day speech in Central Park.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and other members of the late president's family likely will participate in the carrier ceremony.

Congress Outlines
Program To Make
Sharp Tax Slashes

Washington, Sept. 25 (AP)—The peacetime tax-cutting program was outlined today for its first trial run.

1. Cut 9,000,000 low-income persons from the tax rolls.

2. Cut the total income tax bill of individuals by $2,000,000,000 or more.

3. Eliminate or sharply reduce the wartime 95 per cent corporate excess profits tax.

Chairman Doughton (D-N. C.) announced the House ways and means committee will begin its first peacetime tax work tomorrow. November 1 is the deadline for reducing levies on 1946 individual and corporate income.

ALLIES CRUSH
REICH POWERS
TO MAKE WARNAZI PARTY DONE;
NO MORE RACIAL DISCRIMINATION

BY EDWARD D. BALL

Berlin, Sept. 25 (AP)—Germany's conquerors acted formally today to end the war-making power that in this century plunged the world into bloody strife.

A 48-point proclamation that legalized Allied control of every phase of German life ordered abolishment of "all German land, naval and air forces, the SS (elite guard), the SA (Nazi storm troops), and the Gestapo with all their organization, staffs and institutions."

Traditions Swept Out

Included were all the groups "which serve to keep alive the military tradition in Germany"—the army general staff, the officers corps, reserve corps, military schools, war veterans organizations, and other military and quasi-military formations.

The Nazi party was "finally abolished and declared to be illegal," and, the proclamation added, there would be no more secret organizations in Germany and no more racial discrimination.

Done away with, also, was Germany's diplomatic corps.

By virtue of her unconditional surrender, the Allies told Germany that her diplomatic, consular, commercial and other relations with foreign states ended as of the day of the surrender and all her representatives would be recalled.

Shipping Taken Over

It told the Germans to:

1. Carry out "for the benefit of the United Nations such measures of restriction, reinstatement, restoration, reparation, reconstruction and rehabilitation as Allied representatives may prescribe."

2. Remain in Germany unless the Allies authorized them to go abroad, and comply with instructions for return of Germans outside the country.

3. Put at Allied disposal all the nation's intercommunication facilities and comply with directives governing "the use, control and censorship of all media for influencing expression and opinion."

4. Hand over, temporarily at least, all shipping.

5. Hand over all inland transport and electric power properties.

6. Hand over all documents and information bearing on the guilt of Germany's war criminals, and carry out directives, if issued, for seizure of their property.

More Inhuman Nazi
Tortures Revealed
In Military Court

BY CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

Lueneburg, Germany, Sept. 25 (AP)—The British military court trying 45 Germans for crimes at the Oswiecim and Belsen concentration camps was told today that the Nazis practiced artificial insemination of nude women prisoners hanging helplessly head down.

So painful were the experiments that many victims died, the court heard, and many of those who survived were later killed by blood stream injections of gasoline and disinfectants.

The witness who added these newest stories of frightfulness to the record of mass murder, sadistic tortures, filth and pestilence already before the court was Helena Hamermer, 25-year-old Polish Jewess and former medical student.

C&NW RAILWAY CONDUCTOR DIES

Herbert L. McArthur, 57, Found Dead In Caboose At Green Bay

Herbert L. McArthur, 413 South Ninth street, well-known Chicago and Northwestern railway conductor, was found dead in the caboose of his train yesterday morning in Green Bay. Death was believed due to a heart attack.

Mr. McArthur was born in Hermannville, July 25, 1888, and had lived in Escanaba for the past 40 years. He entered the service of the Northwestern railway as a brakeman Sept. 1, 1906, and was promoted to conductor Oct. 26, 1912. Of late, he was employed as conductor on the time freight running between Green Bay and Iron Mountain. He was a member of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, No. 182, the Brotherhood of Railway Employees and the Knights of Columbus, No. 640.

He is survived by his wife; one son, Jack; two grand-children, Charles and Betty; and the following brothers and sisters: Charles, George and Mrs. Carl Buaremele all of Detroit; Byron, Medford, Wis.; Mrs. Earl Taylor, Escanaba; Mrs. Emerson Harvey, Escanaba; Mrs. William Van de Weile, Milwaukee.

The body will be in state this evening at the Allo funeral home. Funeral services will be held Friday morning at nine o'clock at St. Patrick's church, the Rev. Fr. Martin Melican officiating. Burial will be in St. Joseph cemetery.

Snakes Of Okinawa In Zoological Park

Washington—Poisonous snakes from Okinawa, 20 of them, long and slim, patterned in yellow-and-green, are at the National Zoological Park here. The Okinawan name for them is "habu." They belong to the pit-ciper family, which makes them kin to the American rattlers and copperheads, rather than to the Old World cobras.

Director William M. Mann states that they are rather quiet and unaggressive, "though they do offer to snap at you once in a while." In their native haunts they are sub-arboreal in habit, which means that they are rather fond of slithering around in the branches of trees. When annoyed, they have a way of puffing out their throats, like pouter-pigeons or bullfrogs.

They have been here at the Zoo for several weeks, but until now their presence was held as restricted information, at the request of the Army Medical Corps, which brought the specimens here.

Another recent acquisition at the National Zoological Park is a small collection of Mexican axolotls. These are six-inch-long salamanders in a permanently arrested state of development. Unlike normal salamanders, which begin life as larvae in the water but eventually emerge to live on land in damp places, axolotls retain a larval form all their lives, breathing with external gills and never developing lungs.

HE'S PRO-JAPAN—Although continued opposition to Japan's militaristic policy landed him in jail three times since 1941, Toyohiko Kagawa, above, whom many American religious leaders consider the Orient's leading exponent of Christianity, still thinks Hirohito can do no wrong, according to a recent Tokyo interview. Kagawa, now adviser to Premier Higashi-Kuni, said that he would have preferred death to U. S. victory over his country. (NEA Photo.)

Trial Is Resumed In Gasoline Ration Ticket Sale Case

Detroit, Sept. 25 (AP)—Judge Frank A. Picard and a federal court jury today heard a secret service agent testify that $16,101 was found in the home of two defendants charged with selling gasoline ration tickets.

Maurice G. Martineau, the agent, said the money was found in the East Lansing home of William J. Martin and his wife, Dorothy, former chief clerk of the East Lansing rationing board.

The couple are on trial along with Ed A. Nowak, politician and publisher. The trial, begun last week, was resumed today after a recess since Saturday.

Tire Output Gains; Rationing May Be Lifted By Winter

Detroit, Sept. 25 (AP)—Production of passenger car tires will reach prewar levels by the end of the year, the United States Rubber Co. reported today.

The company said by that time there would be a marked easing in the tire shortage and a possible lifting of rationing. All tire production, however, is of synthetic rubber.

Clothing Goes Up Instead Of Down

Washington, Sept. 25 (AP)—Hopes for more inexpensive clothing were dimmed today. OPA announced that most manufacturers will be permitted to produce higher-priced garments than had been planned.

The increase concessions ranged from 5 to 20 per cent over previous maximum average prices for some 400 apparel items.

8th Established Elbe Bridgehead

By NEA Service
In the summer of 1944 a German lieutenant general, his forces facing certain destruction on the coast of Brittany, decided to surrender to the Eighth Infantry Division. He was brought before Brig-Gen. Charles D. W. Canham, assistant commander of the Eighth, who stood with a group of armed infantrymen. The German looked at General Canham and asked, "Where are your credentials?" General Canham motioned to his grim, dirty doughboys. "These are my credentials," he replied.

When the Japs hit Pearl Harbor, the Eighth, a regular Army outfit, was assigned to patrol the U. S. east coast. It sailed for Europe in December, 1943 and landed in Normandy on the Fourth of July. During the next 10 months it was responsible for capture of 316,000 prisoners, 250,000 of whom were seized when the Golden Arrows made a swift dash to the Elbe in April, establishing a bridgehead there and joining with Russian forces.

The Eighth had its first combat at the Ay river in Normandy. It took Rennes, and proceeded to the siege of Brest.

The Division moved into the Luxembourg zone, fought in the Huertgen forest and pushed across the Roer river. The Eighth then went on to cross the Ruhr and the Elbe Canal, fought its way to Cologne, stormed the Elbe, and on V-E Day was deep in Germany at Schweren.

Navy Needs 500,000 Peacetime Sailors; Fathers Released

Washington, Sept. 25 (AP)—The navy hopes to have 500,000 peacetime sailors—without resorting to a draft.

Moreover it has decided to release any enlisted man, now in service, who has three or more children under 18 and who wants to get out.

These were the two major developments in navy news today. Vice-Admiral Louis E. Denfeld, chief of personnel, gave the House naval committee the navy's plans for peace.

Later, however, he told reporters that while the navy hopes to man its ships with 500,000 volunteers, it still favors universal military training.

The new plan does not affect officers or the point system which gives ten points for dependents regardless of their number.

Spread Of Polio Stops After DDT Spraying Is Made

Boston, Sept. 25 (AP)—Health Commissioner Dr. Frederick J. Bailey said tonight that since a polio infested area in the Matapan-Hyde Park district was hand-sprayed with DDT on Aug. 29, not a single new case of the disease has been reported there.

Explaining that up to that time more than half of the city's total of polio cases were from that area, the Boston health official added:

"We are making no claims but something significant happened there."

For a number of years real estate buying and selling was very slow but in the past year, and it seems since the Ford Motor company purchased the Jackson and Tindle property, there has been a rapid turnover of real estate. Uprising Of White Collar Workers Now Threatens

By S. BURTON HEATH
Pittsburgh—Here and in 10 other cities where the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Company has establishments, that patient, long-suffering industrial atom known as "white collar guy" has stopped weeping into his beer and has struck for what he considers his rights.

The white collar strike that has slowed down Westinghouse reversion is not in any way spectacular. Only 10,466 salaried men and women have walked out, while 5,394 did not. For the most part, everything is courteous and gentlemanly. There has been a little "jostling" of non-strikers and a few public recriminations. But picketing has been mostly peaceful.

The CIO shop union is critical of the strike, and at the end of the first week 21,132 CIO members were idle only because even a factory cannot keep running without men and women in the office.

Nevertheless, many here believe that in its way this strike is as significant as was the first sit-down strike. Because all over the country the white collar worker, by general concession the forgotten man of the war boom, has been complaining that he was stretched between rising living costs and stationary salary. He has felt that his needs were ignored because he was trusted not to "upset the applecart" while shop men—through long hours, overtime premiums and union-win raises—were prospering.

If the Westinghouse salaried workers in Baltimore, Cleveland, East Pittsburgh, East Springfield, Lima, Nuttall, Sharon, Derry and Buffalo can win raises or contract concessions, then a general movement among salaried workers may be added to other factors disturbing reconversion, observers believe.

Ask Increase

Westinghouse says that to grant the demands of the Association of Westinghouse Salaried Employees would constitute a net 16 to 18 per cent raise in their base pay, day for Fort Riley Kansas after visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Depuydt for the last ten days.

which already has risen 30 per cent since 1940; would cost from 10 to 13 million dollars a year; would force an increase in the selling price of the company's products.

The War Labor Board says that what the AWSE seeks is not an incentive pay system but a general salary increase. The WLB appears to agree with the company's contention that there is no practicable way to measure the productivity of an office worker, a shipping clerk, an engineer, so as to give him a bonus for exceeding reasonable expectations.

In the light of those contentions, without taking sides in any question whether the salaried workers are entitled to raises, it is interesting to establish a background.

Production workers at Westinghouse have had an incentive system for 35 years. Prior to the war they averaged an extra 25 per cent by exceeding quota output.

At the peak of war production they boosted these incentive increments to 50 per cent of base pay.

In 1943 under threat of a strike, the company granted incentive pay to non-production hourly-wage earners—maintenance and service people. The white collar union asked for the same arrangement.

Because it is difficult to measure the productivity of a sweeper, a watchman, a repairman, the non-production shopmen's incentive pay was pegged by formula behind the incentive pay of production workers. But the white collar employees, after long negotiation, were denied exactly the same arrangement. When the WLB announced its decision officially, the salaried employees struck.

Cynics say that if a reasonable straight raise were offered, the salaried workers would go back to work. It is difficult to guess about that. But many close observers are convinced that, even more than an immediate raise that might well be lost in the future, the white collar workers want to be put onto contract parity with their overalled fellows—to stop playing second fiddle and being passed over just because they are considered too loyal, too conservative and perhaps too timid to enforce their demands.

Watch Closely

The AWSE was organized originally on just such an issue, at a time in 1938 when the company ordered a pay cut for unorganized salaried employees but none for the unionized shopmen. It is in every way a legitimate independent union, though it shuns such customary demands as the union or closed shop, or compulsory checkoff. When the strike started it had 11,259 members among the company's 15,860 salaried workers. In secret ballot, they voted to strike 8,320 to 451; without a two-thirds vote no strike could have been ordered.

Last year the AWSE formed a National Federation of Salaried Unions. It is not only the salaried employees of Westinghouse who are up in arms because they believe that they have been discriminated against, both before and during the war, in favor of the more belligerent shop men. There are many others who feel likewise. The white collar class is watching the AWSE closely. Upon the outcome of this strike may depend the actions of many thousands of their fellows all over the country.

Waddle Like Duck For That Backache

By FRANK CAREY

(P) Science Writer

Washington—Waddle like a duck if you want relief from that pain in the back.

That's a new tip from a Navy doctor who has prescribed it successfully for bluejackets suffering from sacro-iliac pain. The sacro-iliac is the bony structure linking the spine with the pelvis.

Lieut. Comdr. B. Schuster of the Navy Medical Corps describes his prescription as "duck-waddle therapy." Here's how it's done—as outlined in the Naval Medical Bulletin:

Squat on your haunches and place your arms so that the hands touch the floor parallel and lateral to the knees for support. Then—

Waddle just like a duck with your head and shoulders bent slightly forward in the crouch position. Do it until you're tired. Schuster recommends steady increase of the exercise until it can be done for 10 minutes, and he adds:

"Acute sacro-iliac pain is relieved almost immediately on merely assuming the position."

Admiral Halsey Speaks

ADMIRAL HALSEY'S colorful speech has added much to the glossary of World War II and his picturesque language, combined with his naval leadership, has endeared him to all Americans.

Nevertheless, Halsey's remarks in Honolulu, "I think we closed up too soon because there still are too many Japanese alive," requires explanation. It conveys the impression, falsely, we believe, that Halsey would have preferred a continuation of the war so that the slaughter of Japanese, whom he has always scornfully referred to as "monkey men", could have continued. At least this is the interpretation that many Americans have given to the admiral's statement.

Accepted in that light, Halsey's statement was unfortunate, indeed, and a disservice to Gen. MacArthur, who has the task of rebuilding Japan along peaceful lines. Inflammatory statements by responsible American officials serve only to fan the flames of hatred and imperil the Allied program in Japan.

Further, a needless continuation of the war would have resulted in further American casualties, death or life-long suffering for many American soldiers and sailors, all without cause.

Halsey's remarks were prompted by a description of the Japanese treatment of American war prisoners. It is understandable that the admiral, who knew the Japanese bestiality at first hand, finds it easy in his heart to hate an enemy that made the rules of war so wantonly brutal as did the Japanese.

There are too many Japanese alive. The Japs who are responsible for the cruelties, murders and sadistic treatment of prisoners who fell into their hands, the Japs who planned and executed the treachery of the Pearl Harbor attack and the Japs responsible for any of the crimes of war deserve death. If it were these men to whom Admiral Halsey was referring when he made that remark, he is entirely justified. He erred, however, in not making that clear.

Continuation of the war would only have served to delay the capture of these evil men and the slaughter of Japanese would have been directed mainly against those whose only guilt was false allegiance to a gang of brigands.

The Value of Publicity

MICHIGAN State College has engaged the services of Dr. L. C. Knorr, formerly of New York State College at Ithaca, who is now spearheading the fight against the much-dreaded potato ring rot in this state.

When this bacterial ring rot appeared in Delta county potato fields in 1941, the growers for awhile remained quite secretive about it, for they feared the publicity given to the disease infestation would injure this area's potato reputation. Then, Delta county was receiving state and nation-wide attention because of its high yields and other outstanding achievements.

It is now realized, however, that the best policy is to keep all farmers fully informed about potato ring rot developments, so that the extent of the epidemic can be known and the proper amount of effort be made to combat it. Through various media of publicity, the Michigan State College extension department is advising farmers of the seriousness of ring rot and outlining the steps that must be taken to curb its spread. From now on, real progress in the fight against this plant disease likely will be noted.

Breeding Misunderstanding

TOO many times misunderstandings about local government policies develop in our communities because the citizens are not kept fully-informed about what is going on at the city hall or court house.

Sometimes, the lack of a well-informed public opinion results from the newspaper's failing to perform its duty of publishing all the news that is fit to print. This dereliction in its duty may be due to plain incompetence or lack of initiative on the part of the gentlemen of the press, or it may be a result of similar faults in government officials. After all, the newspaper must obtain their news of community activities from the public officials and other authoritative sources.

In a democracy, the people are the stockholders in their government and they are entitled to know what their government is doing. They also have a right to express their opinions on various issues so that their public servants will be guided in their decisions, provided they want to carry out the wishes of these stockholding citizens. Secrecy always breeds rumor and misunderstanding, and the best safety valve for any community is the release of complete and honest information about the public's business.

Returning to School

ENROLLMENT in the Escanaba public schools reveals a slight gain over last year's total, a trend that appears to be general throughout the state. Apparently, the young people are heeding the advice to complete their education instead of quitting school to take advantage of the many job opportunities.

Jobs are still plentiful, but this situation will not likely last much longer. War plants have closed. Many service men are back to civilian life and are beginning to look for work. A considerable number of veterans are returning to high schools and colleges for they now realize the value of a good education.

The increased public school enrollment in Escanaba and other cities is challenge to the citizens to provide constantly improving educational benefits to students at every academic level.

New Farmers

THE National Planning Association says there aren't half enough farms in this country to satisfy the people who are going to want them. Maybe some kind and expert advice, plus a few practical demonstrations, to prospective new farmers might help solve the problem.

First there should be removed from the vocabulary of the city-born that slightly contemptuous and wholly misinformed phrase, "just a farmer." They should be given to understand that a man who works the land isn't just someone who couldn't make a living in the city.

They should get some idea of the life-time of stored-up wisdom and the hours of unremitting toil that go to make up a good farmer. They should see him fighting, with one brain and one pair of hands, the unpredictable and uncontrollable forces of nature. And they should know of the foresight and readjustment of plan that occasionally salvages something out of an apparently hopeless situation.

They should be aware of the ruinous disappointment that so often visits even the smartest and hardest working tiller of the soil. They should see what disease can do to a crop, and the effect of too much rain, hail, frost, drought and wind on growing things.

And then, if they still want to try it, they should receive a blessing and a chance to buy a farm. There probably would be enough to go round.

Other Editorial Comments

FORT BRADY

(Marquette Mining Journal)

The Sault Ste. Marie Chamber of Commerce is protesting the decision to abandon Fort Brady. Whether it is a proper decision depends on whether it is part of a program to abolish all posts in the same general category.

The country has been dotted for many years with forts whose usefulness long since passed. They have had continued existence because of political pressure against their abandonment. As a result, the peace time army, in the past ridiculously small, has not been concentrated and distributed in a manner that would give it the highest efficiency, but has been divided in manning an excessive number of forts and posts, most of which had long ago lost the significance they had when they were built. The West and Far West have been dotted with forts originally built to keep the Indians in check or as points of concentration from which warfare against the Indians could, if necessary, be conducted with the greatest expedition and the best effect.

The most that it has been possible to say for Fort Brady for years has been that there was as much validity in its continued maintenance as there was in the maintenance of many other forts. If there is now to be decision to close all the forts for which there is little, or no, need and whose continued maintenance makes for inefficiency and high cost in maintaining the Army there is no case to be made for the plea that Fort Brady be kept in being. Only if Fort Brady has been singled out when it is proposed to continue forts for which no more, or even less, can be said will there be, it appears, sound ground for protest against the proposal to abandon it.

Take My Word For It . . . Frank Colby

ENGLISH AS SHE IS WROTE

The occupational disease of the American writer is the dangling modifier. Loony logics will jump out at you from newspapers, magazines, books, and even radio broadcasts; and it is amazing how frequently they slip into the writings of even the nation's topnotch authors and journalists.

For example, Mosser Mauger, author of "Golden Wedding," in a recent edition of Collier's, caused "Grandfather" to say: "I often saw her with her braids flying out behind and her ruffled petticoats running down the hill to meet me."

A slight like petticoats running down the hill would be enough to frighten grand-pap out of his aged wits, and it isn't what the author intended to say.

Karl Eskelund, in the September "American," makes the surprising statement, "Danish law does not permit a girl to marry until she is 21 without her parents' consent." If there is such a law, it ought to be repealed. A girl should be allowed to become 21 whether her parents approve or not.

In the same issue of the same magazine, William Cole describes one of his characters thus: "The woman was also slight, with large dark eyes set deep in hollow cheeks." Old Phineas Barnum would have paid a pretty price to hire an attraction like that for his side show.

Margaret Cousins, in the same issue, speaks of Mary Lee as coming in "trailing sand and sunburned." She meant, of course, that Mary Lee, sunburned, came in trailing sand. Obviously, Mary Lee could not leave a sunburned trail behind her without shedding her skin like a snake.

Another author's "little old lady with rumpled white hair named Bess," is matched by still another's, "a lean tired looking man with three sons named William Benton." I suppose he calls them Bill-Bill-Bill for short.

Washington—The Dodecanese islands in the Aegean sea lie along the coast of Turkey-in-Asia and from a geographic standpoint should belong to Turkey and not to Italy, which took them from Turkey in 1912, or to distant Soviet Russia which wants them now, according to news reports. Their inhabitants are mostly Greek, reported to want affiliation with Greece, and a Pan-Dodecanese Congress meeting in New York in October, 1943, proclaimed the union of the people of these islands with the people of Greece.

This congress was held under the sponsorship of the Dodecanesian National Council, made up of American citizens and others interested in the welfare of the people of the islands. Its meeting was held after the surrender of Italy. In its action reference is made to the principles of the Atlantic Charter. The action is interesting to the degree that it actually reflects the wishes of the inhabitants of the islands.

—OCCUPIED BY ITALY—

Although the name Dodecanese comes from the Greek word meaning "twelve," the islands actually are 13 in number. They are not very important from an economic standpoint, although they are productive enough to support a considerable population. Some of them, such as Rhodes, are of great historical interest and in normal times are visited by many tourists and scholars. Their present great importance is due to their strategic position. Their occupation by the Germans, together with that of Crete, during the war prevented the Allies from using the Aegean sea to approach the coast of Greece and the Dardanelles entrance to the Black sea.

In 1912, Italy, then at war with Turkey and meeting difficulties in Libya, occupied the 13 Dodecanese islands after a single battle at Psinthos in Rhodes, in which the Italians were aided by the natives, who thought that autonomy would follow the abolition of Turkish rule. In fact, in the first treaty of Lausanne, in October, 1912, Italy agreed to evacuate them as soon as the Turks left Libya. This Italy did not do, and by the secret treaty of London, in 1915, which secured Italy's entrance into World War I, she was given full sovereignty over them.

Rhodes is perhaps the best known and most important of the Dodecanese islands. Leros has a good harbor and was made into a naval base which, during the war, was for a while a threat against Turkey. Cos will be remembered as an active combat area.

Students of ancient history are familiar with the former glories of Rhodes. This island is best known in modern days, perhaps, as a resort because of its delightful climate. In early days it was the center of culture, the home of scholars, philosophers, painters, orators and poets. At one time it was the center of the Eastern Roman Empire. Rhodes was conquered in 1309 by the Knights Hospitallers of St. John of Jerusalem, as an incident of the Crusades, and made into a great fortress for the protection of the seas against the Turks.

—MAY LOSE AFRICA—

The colonial empire that Italy may lose, as a result of her part in the war and the action of the Big Five Council of Foreign Ministers, is mostly in Africa and a group of islands in the Mediterranean off the coast of Asia. In round figures, it is an empire 1,000,000 square miles in area, with a population of over 3,000,000 people. For a few years it included Ethiopia with 350,000 square miles of territory and 9,500,000 people, and also, during part of the great war, Albania and other areas taken by the Italian army on the European continent.

Libya, in North Africa, is the most important country to Italy in this empire. It occupies over 900 miles of the Mediterranean coast directly south of Italy, with its port of Tripoli about 300 miles south of Sicily. The Italian province of Libya contains approximately 214, square miles of territory and the Libyan Sahara more than twice as much. Together they had, in 1939, a population of 850,000.

Libya's importance to Italy, besides being a foothold in Africa, lies in its agricultural products and its promise as a land for settlement by Italy's surplus population. Approximately 90,000 of its total population were Italians, with only about 6,000 other Europeans. In addition to considerable grain, it produces almonds, olives, figs, dates and oranges. Its principal livestock are sheep and goats, their wool, hair and meat going mostly to Italy.

Eritrea, on the lower Red sea between Egypt and French Somaliland, occupies a strategic position because its eastern end lies on the narrow waterway connecting the Red sea with the Gulf of Aden where it might, to a degree, control shipping from the Suez canal to the Gulf of Aden and the Indian Ocean.

The principal products of Eritrea of value to Italy are its wheat and cotton. The quantity produced for export is not very great because the country has less than 90,000 square miles of territory and only a million or so native population. Italian Somaliland, which stretches over 1,000 miles south from the Gulf of Aden along the east coast of Africa, has an area of approximately 270,000 square miles and a population of 1,150,000. This country, as well as Eritrea, adjoins Ethiopia. The three together constituted the prewar Italian East Africa, that included all of the northeast part of Africa along the lower Red sea, the Gulf of Aden and the Indian Ocean except French and British Somaliland.

The Dodecanese islands in the Aegean sea, relatively near the coast of Turkey-in-Asia, were seized by Italy in 1912. The inhabitants are mostly Greek and desire affiliation, it is claimed, with Greece. Soviet Russia is now reported to want them. They, together with elongated Crete, control the entrances to the Aegean from the Mediterranean.

The heavy question soon will be, to wear them or not to wear them.

The harvest moon seems to govern not only the tied but also the untied.

The Broth Should Be More Savory Now

Good Morning! INTO THE PAST

By The Bugler 10 Years Ago—1935

THE CHANGELESS WAY—Men with little soul and a sluggish liver have said there is no future for Escanaba. These pessimists find criticism an easy way to excuse a lack of civic interest, and fault-finding an antidote for their own lack of vision.

With such as these Escanaba and Delta county certainly cannot have a brighter future. If it had been left to men of their ilk, this locality would not even have had a past. The development of any community requires optimism and at least a trifling measure of courage.

The past of this community was built on optimism and courage. The foundation has endured and the structure requires remodeling often, maintenance always. The slump-shouldered pessimist who says there is no future in Escanaba will have no future here, because he believes neither in maintaining what he has nor enlarging for growth.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The rosy pictures painted by some Chambers of Commerce of local advantages have brought smiles to the more thoughtful, yet it is this same hopeful spirit that made development possible. Back in 1871 the August 26 issue of "The Escanaba Tribune" reported:

"The sure, steady and rapid growth of the village of Escanaba is the best guarantee for its advancement, and we feel assured that its increase in the future will be even greater than it has been in the past, believing that only a small beginning has yet been made."

And again: "To all therefore who are in search of a good business point, a rapidly growing village, and one that is certain to continue so, we say come on, and we will welcome you with open hands to hospitable homes."

Please remember the above paragraphs were written 74 years ago. The village of Escanaba had but recently been incorporated and the population was about 1,000. Everywhere America was on the march toward greater industrial development. The trying days of the Civil War were over, and the future was what strong-hearted men wanted to make of it.

PRIVATE CAPITAL

In those days of 1871 private capital was not so conservative as today. Money was something to be invested, to be lost and a new start attempted. Private enterprise was largely free, but most of all private enterprise had courage and willingness to invest in the future.

OPPORTUNITIES HERE

Opportunities for private enterprise still remain in Escanaba. The period of postwar expansion is here and during reconversion many plants will go out of business temporarily, to resume operations in new sites.

Knowing this the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce through its industrial committee, in cooperation with the City of Escanaba, is making a determined bid to interest new industries in locating here. They feel that Escanaba does have certain advantages to offer, and they are prepared to make additional concessions as an inducement.

It is a program which should receive the sympathy and, still more important, the understanding of the people of Escanaba. If mistakes have been made in the past it has been through no lack of courage and optimism, and through no lack of conviction that Escanaba does have a future. Better some progress and a few errors than hours spent sobbing helplessly over a situation that does require action.

The position of the city council and the Chamber of Commerce and all those facing the future courageously is similar to that voiced 74 years ago by David Langley, Jr., Escanaba village councilman and businessman:

"We have on hand business buildings and lots, excelled by few if any that have been sold, and we are prepared to dispose of these at fair prices and on the most liberal terms, to parties buying for the purpose of improving."

HISTORY REPEATS—Escanaba

has had its "ups and downs" like every other community, yet its progress has been surprisingly stable when compared with other Northern Michigan cities. Not once has it been threatened with the fate of becoming a ghost town, and never has its population taken an alarming drop.

Back in Oct., 1898, just 47 years ago, the Escanaba Iron Port reported:

"One of the best indications of the advancement of a city is to be found in the construction of new buildings within its limits. For several years comparatively little building has been done in Escanaba. Times were too dull. We were in the throes of the great

Q. I know V-mail has been popular, but how many persons comprise the V-mail staff in the Army?

A. Last month, the Army reported that its V-mail staff never exceeded more than 1,000 enlistment men and 60 officers during the peak of the flow. The Army Signal Corps has handled more than 517,000,000 V-mail letters.

Q. What is the age limitation for which any enlisted man in the Army may be released on his own application?

A. Age 35 years or older, with at least two years honorable service.

Q. When did American troops first enter Paris after D-day?

A. In the final phase of the battle for Paris, French irregulars attacked the German garrison in Paris and engaged the enemy for four days. After a short fight the Germans surrendered Paris on August 25, 1944 to the Second French Armored Division to which some American troops were attached. Several days later two divisions of American troops paraded thru Paris.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington—President Truman has sent a telegram to British Prime Minister Atlee urging that around 150,000 Jewish refugees now in Europe be allowed to enter Palestine immediately. Truman has also instructed General Eisenhower to have the U. S. army supply transportation for them to Palestine.

All this developed as a result of a meeting between Truman, Senator Brewster of Maine, Republican; Senator Magnuson of Washington, Democrat; and ex-Senator Gillette of Iowa, now head of the "League For Free Palestine." These three had planned to go to London to take the matter up with the British government when Truman, hearing about their visit, called them to the White House. He urged that they not go to London at this time.

"It would just create more problems for Jimmie Byrnes," Truman explained, "when he's already got enough on his hands."

Senator Brewster then engaged in a good-natured but vigorous argument with his old friend, the President, with whom he had long served on the Truman committee. The President explained that he was not in favor of an outright Jewish state in Palestine. Senator Brewster, who has long waged a battle for the right of the Jews in Palestine, took vigorous opposition to this.

"You are just following the same British line that Roosevelt fell for," he admonished his old friend Truman. "It was the British who arranged for Roosevelt to see Ibn Saud so that Ibn Saud could warn Roosevelt that there would be bloodshed if Palestine was given to the Jews. Meanwhile, the British were giving Ibn Saud rifles with which he could stir up bloodshed."

President Truman, however, maintained that Palestine should be governed by all religious, Mohammedans and Christians as well as Jews.

—WHAT WE FOUGHT FOR—

Truman was 100 per cent behind the plan to permit Jewish refugees to go to Palestine, even went further than the visiting senators expected. They had been concerned regarding the fate of approximately 100,000 to 150,000 Jews—some of them from Poland; some from Germany—who are living in refugee camps under the protection of the American army and cannot return home. Earl Harrison, former U. S. Commissioner of Immigration, recently went to Europe to study their fate, and reported that their return to Poland and Germany would be extremely difficult.

This situation aroused President Truman. He promised to send orders to General Eisenhower not only to transport to Palestine the refugees who wished to go, but to billet other refugees with German families if they wished to remain in Germany.

"These people have a right to live in their own country," Truman said emphatically, "and I am going to instruct General Eisenhower to billet them right in with German families if they want to live in Germany."

"This is one of the things for which we fought the war," Truman added. "If we have failed in this, the war has been fought in vain."

COURT DROPS
DIXNER CASE

Judge's Decision Affects Defendants In Three Cases

Dismissal of a statutory charge involving a minor, against Harold Dixner, of Gulliver, along with the continuance for an indefinite period of similar charges against Gregory Goudreau and Hugh Lamirand, also of Gulliver, highlighted the events in Tuesday's session of circuit court and brought to a close a sensational case that has been hanging fire since April, 1944.

The order of dismissal was granted by Judge Herbert Runnels at the request of Prosecuting Attorney William J. Sheahan who presented a motion in court Tuesday morning stating that when Dixner was first arraigned in court in the April 1944 term, he entered a plea of not guilty and the case could not be tried at that time due to the fact that the complaining witness was in no condition to appear in court. At subsequent terms of circuit court trial was delayed because the complaining witness was about to become a mother. During this interval an embezzlement case was tried on three different occasions and in each instance consumed a full week—the time allowed for the circuit court for Schoolcraft county—with the result that it has not been possible to bring this case for trial before this time.

Further complicating the case, the prosecutor states, is the fact that Hugh Lamirand, also involved in a similar case, is married to a sister of the complaining witness and the complaining witness is married to Gregory Goudreau, who previously entered a plea of guilty to taking indecent liberties with her, and who admits that he is the father of her child.

It now develops, says the prosecutor, that the complaining witness would rather not complain against the defendant in the case. The prosecutor sums it up by stating that it is impossible to secure a conviction in the case; that there is no public demand that the case be tried; that the complaining witness if compelled to testify would be a hostile witness, and on the basis of her uncorroborated testimony it would be impossible to secure a conviction; that conviction of these men would mean the breaking up of a home in the case of the defendant and the subsequent breaking up of the homes of the other two defendants, and disrupt the home life of ten children, with no possible good to be achieved.

Judge Runnels agreed with the sentiment expressed by Sheahan, ordered dismissal of the case against Dixner, and that the cases against Goudreau and Lamirand be continued indefinitely and stricken from the court calendar. The judge explained that the case against Goudreau could not be dismissed because he had already entered a plea of guilty.

Previous to this case, that of Adolph Romer, 59, former school janitor, charged with gross sexual offense against children, was heard in Judge Runnels' chambers. As a result of the hearing Romer was adjudged a sexual psychopathic person and ordered committed to the custody of the state hospital commission, to remain in their custody until cured.

Romer was arrested September 11, and has been confined in the county jail since then awaiting disposition of his case.

The motion for leave to file a motion for a new trial in the case of Edgar Robare, convicted more than twenty years ago for the murder of Buford Norberg, was continued and will probably be heard when circuit court convenes in Munising.

A few motions remain to be heard at the local term of court and it is expected that the docket will be cleared by Wednesday afternoon. There being no jury cases up for trial, Judge Runnels dismissed the jurors summoned to appear Tuesday morning.

TEAM WORK AND THE DUCKS
As I sat there listening to the discussions between Mr. Kannenberg of the public service commission, Mr. Bersing of the Wisconsin conservation department, and Mr. Monroe and Mr. Small of the Oshkosh South Side Business Men's club, I was pleased at the progress.

In the large office at Madison, Mr. Kannenberg listened quietly until he heard what the business men wished to do in the way of improving Rush lake for hunting, trapping and fishing. He said that the state would have no objections if the business men wished to promote building a dam at the outlet of Rush lake.

He told us that it was perfectly legal to maintain the regular normal water level all through the year by building a dam but that only through the consent of every property owner along the shoreline could a lake level be raised.

The South Side business men assured him that only a normal water level would be held and even then nothing would be done until they had held a meeting with the citizens of Rush lake. We then returned to Oshkosh with the intention of securing a surveyor to determine the normal water level.

The meeting at Rush lake was attended by almost every farmer and landholder on or near the lake. At first some of them were suspicious and I couldn't blame them. Why should a group of Oshkosh business men want to do this thing if there were no money in it?

When they were shown that there was absolutely no catch in it, that it was done only in the spirit of cooperation there was not a dissenting voice in that entire group of about 60 or 70 landowners. They knew that the South Side organization, with Rudy Havemann as president, never backed a racket.

Thus, preliminary arrangements usually requiring several months were accomplished in one open meeting. All were assured that a post would be placed in the water for all to see that the mark of the original normal level was so kept. This is now in place.

Rush lake is a problem and the business men are by no means certain that a normal water level will cure the faults of the lake. Nor are they making any claims which will mislead the public into thinking that they have a cure-all.

In the next article let us follow their line of reasoning, their hopes and see whether they have planned intelligently. It may be that their efforts may save this dying lake.

The water level of the oceans would have to be lowered 10,000 feet to give the earth an even distribution of land and water.

Hotel Idea Talked Over By Rotarians

Views of Rotarians regarding a proposed new hotel for Gladstone were heard at a roundtable held at this week's meeting of the Rotary club under the direction of Dr. O. S. Hult, program chairman.

Views were expressed regarding the need, best choice of location and whether or not it could be expected to benefit business in general in the city.

Need of a modern hostelry was generally agreed upon while members were divided to some extent as to whether a hotel, if built, should be located in the business district or if it should be on a site near the shore.

One of the club members, chairman of the City club hotel committee, touched on plans now underway to have a survey made by The Hockenbury System, Harrisburg, Pa., which will provide the city with pertinent information on the subject compiled by a group of specialists.

NOW THAT THE WAR IS OVER...

TELEPHONE manufacturers are reconvertng to civilian production as fast as they can. Michigan Bell already has launched its $120,000,000 five-year post-war program of expansion and improvement. We will step it up as rapidly as sufficient equipment and trained manpower become available.

Between a third and a half of the 125,000 families now waiting for service can be cared for as soon as enough telephone instruments are produced—a matter of months.

To fill the majority of orders, however, instruments alone won't do the job. Thousands of miles of wire and cable will have to be produced and placed—central offices enlarged—many new ones built. Central office equipment will have to be manufactured and connected into the system. Much of this is slow, painstaking hand-work.

So, many of those now waiting will not have service for a long time. It may take nearly two years before telephones can be installed generally without delay.

If you are waiting, we appreciate your patience. We promise to provide you with service just as quickly as possible.

Jinx Jolts Cards, Cubs Win, 6-5; Welcome Rain Keeps Tigers Idle

PENNANT NEAR FOR GRIZZLIES

Four Games Out of Six Will Lock Up Flag For Chicago

BY SID FEDER

Wrigley, Chicago, Sept. 25 (AP)—Those "$5,000 jitters" jolted the Cardinals just a little bit more than the Cubs today—and the jolt jerked Chicago's Grizzlies virtually out of reach in front of the National League's pennant stretch struggle.

The Cubs came to life with a four-run spree in the seventh inning of this first game of the senior circuit's own "little world series" to pile up a 6 to 5 win and jump 2½ games out in front of St. Louis in the flag chase.

Taking this thrill-a-play heart-breaker, the Cubs zipped to a spot where they have to take only four of their remaining six games to lock up the championship, even if the Cards win all of the five they still have to play.

Hank Knocked Out
Riding to victory on the shaky—but rugged—right arm of Hank Borowy, the Cubs, too, had all the heat taken off them for tomorrow's second and final fust.

Borowy wasn't around at the finish today. Coming back with a two-run rally in the eighth, the Cards clouted Hank out of the box. With the tying run on first, only one out, and the head of the St. Louis batting order coming up, old Ray Prim, the 35-year-old rookie southpaw from Saltpa, Ala., came along and put out the fire.

Marty Marion, "Mr. Short-stop," was all over the place and four times out of Chicago whacks on plays that were just impossible.

The jitters stayed with the Cardinals just long enough—and hit them in just important enough a spot—to break up the ball game. And, although St. Louis laced out 14 hits to the Cubs nine for the afternoon, the Cards came up with buttermilk for three errors to the Cubs' two.

Fumble Ties Score
Veteran Roy Hughes, filling in at short for the Cubs, opened the sweet seventh with a single to short on which Marion made a great play for a stop, but couldn't field. When Borowy forced Hughes, it didn't appear that the Cubs would do much about overcoming the Cards' 3-2 lead.

But Brecheen lost Stan Hack, after getting two strikes on him, and the Chicago third baseman walked. Don Johnson then slashed a line single into left, and when Red Schoendienst fumbled it, Borowy bounced home with the tying run.

Peanuts Lowrey drew an intentional pass, but the strategy proved sour, for Phil Cavarretta flailed a single into center for his second hit of the day, to knock in his second run.

Billy Southworth then called another Lefty George Dockins, the bullpen. But Handy Andy Pafko picked out an inside pitch and plastered it down the left field foul line for two bases and two more runs.

Dockins got the next man out—then he went out too and Ken Burkhart came along.

Texas Thumper Clicks
But in the eighth, after one man had been retired, Marion beat out a hit to short. Old Deb Garmes, the 37-year-old Texas thumper, came up to hit for catcher Del Rice here, and did. His booming fly fell between Pafko and Bill Nicholson in the far reaches of right center for three bases. Marion scored on the three-bagger and a few moments later, Garmes also pranced in, when Augie Bergamo belted a pinch-single to center. That sound the fire alarm for Prim, and Lefty stopped it, after Schoendienst got on base on an error.

After the Cards had loaded the bases in the second and put two aboard in the third, they found Borowy for the tie-breaking tally in the fourth when Adams singled advanced on a sacrifice and scored on Sanders' second hit—and second run batted in of the day.

That's the way matters stood until the roof fell in on the Cards in the seventh, after Brecheen had retired 11 men in a row from the third through the sixth.

A PERFECT PLAY—Nice blocking cleared the path for Captain Haglund of the Gladstone Braves as he scampered goalward for a touchdown. LeGault (40) on the ground has blocked out his man and Halfback LaVelle (33) and Quarterback Engstrom (30) are over to take out any other potential Munnings tacklers. Gladstone won 31-2. It was Haglund's second of three touchdowns.

NORWAY NEXT FOR ESKYMOS

Vikings Always Tough; St. Joseph Trojans Have Open Date

The Eskymos football squad will oppose the Norway Vikings at the Escanaba athletic field next Saturday, while the St. Joseph Trojans enjoy an open date.

The Eskymos jumped into the forefront of the upper peninsula championship race last Saturday by their decisive 21-0 victory over the Ironwood Red Devils, but they face a perennial tartar in Coach Allen Bonberg's Vikings. To 0, last year at Norway and the Eskymos can hardly forget that one. As is the situation today, the Escanaba team was the pre-game favorite last year over Norway, only to find the Vikings riding high for the annual battle. The result was that Escanaba, never able to get going offensively, finally succumbed 7 to 0 on a long pass in the closing minutes of play.

The St. Joseph Trojans, who lost a hard fought battle to Pesh-tope last Friday night, 14 to 7, have an open date this week and Coach Clarence Needham is utilizing the opportunity to give his small squad a chance to recover from the bumps and bruises received in the opening game of the season.

Over at the Escanaba camp, Coach George Ruwitsch is not finding it necessary to warn his proteges about the danger of overconfidence in the approaching Norway game. The Eskymos have too much respect for the Vikings, who always are tough competition for the Escanaba footballers.

Robinson To Tackle Jake Lamotta Again

Chicago, Sept. 25 (AP)—Ray "Sugar" Robinson of New York, defeated only once in 57 professional bouts, tomorrow night will engage his fellow townsman, Jake Lamotta, the only boxer to defeat him, in a 12-round battle in Comiskey Park, home of the Chicago White Sox.

If the weather is favorable, Promoter Jack Kearns expects the gate to be above $100,000.

Lamotta, never knocked off his feet in 62 ring engagements, figures he will have a slight edge because of the added distance and because of his 10 pound pull in weight. He is a middleweight, whereas Robinson is a full fledged welter.

Released By Army, Billy Conn Plans Comeback In Ring

Camp Lee, Va., Sept. 25 (AP)—Billy Conn, the pride of Pittsburgh and former light heavyweight champion of the world, was discharged from the United States Army today and left for his home for a brief rest. He plans to resume again in civilian rings his campaign for a shot at Champion Joe Louis and the world's heavyweight title.

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

What is a touchback and what is a safety? These are questions that have always been confusing to football fans and since they occur frequently in football, fans can gain a much better understanding of the game by learning the difference between these two play situations. It is important because the touchback is not a scoring play while the safety scores two points. Moreover, the method in putting the ball in play following a touchback is different from the method used in putting the ball in play following a safety. Thus, even if the fans do not understand the play, they can tell whether a touchback or safety has been ruled by noticing the procedure that follows the play situation.

Following a touchback, the ball is put in play with a scrimmage down on the 20 yard line, with the team defending that goal being given possession of the ball. Following a safety, the ball is next put in play with a free-kick down. That is, the team against whom the safety has been scored is required to kick off, with a place-kick, from the 20 yard line. The formation is the same as that on the opening kickoff of the game, except that the kick is made from the 20 yard line, instead of the 40 yard line. If there is no free-kick down, there is no safety and no point score. That is the surest way for the fans to determine whether a safety or touchback has been ruled.

There is another method of determining whether a safety has been scored, but it is somewhat less reliable due to general laxity of officials in signalling decisions. The referee should indicate that a safety has been scored by extending both arms above his head, and then bringing the palms of the hands together. Unfortunately, officials do not always give this signal following a safety and their failure to do so could lead to the false impression that the play situation resulted in a touchback.

The impulse that sends a football into either end zone is the factor that determines whether a play situation is a touchback, touchdown or safety. That is, the officials must determine which team is responsible for causing the ball to go into the end zone. If a team causes the ball to go into their opponent's end zone, it is either a touchdown or touchback, depending upon which team gains possession in the end zone. If a team causes the ball to go into their own end zone, it is either a safety or touchback, depending upon which team gains possession in the end zone. Certain touchback situations affected by possession of the ball, such as a kick from scrimmage which goes into the end zone. Touchbacks are automatic on such plays, regardless of which team gains possession in the end zone.

Lars Cameron, superintendent of schools at Gladstone, will be the main speaker and Ken Gunderman, Daily Press sports editor, will be toastmaster.

Louisville Evens Up Playoff Finals

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 25 (AP)—Louisville evens the American Association playoff finals tonight by defeating St. Paul, 5-1, behind the five-hit pitching of "Frank" Terry. The count now stands at two-all in the best four out of seven games series.

Loose fielding by the Saints enabled the Colonels to pile up their lead. Ernie Rudolph, who started for St. Paul, was batted out of the box before he was able to retire a single visitor. Don Steiner and a double by Steve Barath gave the Colonels two runs in the first inning and a lead they never relinquished.

BRIGGS STADIUM IS SOGGY SPOT

Two Victories Needed To Snag Flag; Shower Today Would Do It

BY GAYLE TALBOT

Detroit, Sept. 25 (AP)—Most of the Detroit Tigers sat around their hotel home today and watched the descent of a soothing, gentle rain with all the appreciation of a Texas cotton farmer after a long drought.

To Manager Steve O'Neill's nervous athletes each drop looked like another digit in a World Series check. One after another they looked at the glistening streets and scanned the lowering clouds and said hopefully: "Looks like it might last for days."

There was never a chance of playing today's opener with Cleveland. Before noon the home club, which is the judge and jury in such cases, announced there would be a double-header tomorrow, starting at 1:30 p. m. (Eastern War Time).

Suspense Is Awful
If those games should be washed out, too, the Tigers automatically become American League champions, assured of finishing ahead of the idle Washington Senators on percentage points even if they should drop their final two bouts in St. Louis on Saturday and Sunday.

The best the weather bureau could say was that tomorrow's weather should be better—how much better it wouldn't guess. The airport said it would clear in the afternoon. Even if the sun should appear early in the day, Briggs Stadium still will be a very wet ball yard at game time.

If it is possible to play the two games, then the Tigers must win both to sew up the pennant. A split would assure them a tie with Washington and carry the flag fight down to the closing pair in St. Louis.

After their experience with the Browns on Sunday, when Nelson Potter scrambled them into a two-hit shutout, the Tigers are frank in saying they have no desire to buck St. Louis in a couple of pay-off games. If the rain lets them down, they are determined to beat the Indians twice and get it over with.

Manager O'Neill, before splashing over to a hospital for a routine physical check, said his pitching choices would be the same—Hal Newhouse and Al Benton. Allie Reynolds and Steve Gromek were to go for the Indians.

Percentage Low
Benton welcomed the day's lay-off, figuring it would do his chronic Charley horse good. The fellow is extremely anxious to pitch himself a full, winning game, and he should be tough if he gets his chance tomorrow. The fact that he has been unable to finish his last eleven starts is rankling him considerably. He was yanked very precipitately several times, once last week in Washington when he had a 5-0 lead.

The rain just about washed away the Detroit club's chances of breaking the American League attendance mark. The Tigers needed to draw 51,012 today and tomorrow to smash the record total of 1,289,422 paid admissions set by the New York Yankees in 1920. Their chances of pulling the many fans tomorrow were very remote.

It is also possible that the American League pennant will be won with the lowest winning percentage in major league history. The lowest figure extant is .578, set respectively by the St. Louis Cardinals of 1926 and the St. Louis Browns last year.

Should Detroit win two of its remaining four games, sufficient to take the crown, its final average would be .571.

Homer By Rosen Helps Brooks Nip Giants In 9th, 7-4

New York, Sept. 25 (AP)—Goody Rosen's 12th homer of the season, coming with two out and two on in the ninth inning, climaxed a Brooklyn Dodgers' spurt today for a 7-4 decision over the New York Giants.

Harry Feldman had a three-hit shutout in his pocket until the Brooks cut loose for four runs in the seventh but the Giants came back to tie in their half of the inning on Clyde Kluttz' two-run pinch homer.

Lombardi went all the way for his 10th victory and his third straight over New York as the Dodgers made it 14 out of 21 over the Giants for the season.

Whooping Bruins Celebrate; Grimm Not Too Certain

BY JIMMY JORDAN

Chicago, Sept. 25 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs almost blew the roof off their clubhouse today as all the pent-up steam that boiled during one of their toughest—and perhaps most important—victories of the season was loosed in one big roar.

They trooped back to their lockers whooping and back-slapping after that 6-5 victory over the champion St. Louis Cardinals, a victory they won the hard way by coming from behind twice and then outlasting the Cards in the closing innings.

Ray Prim, who turned in a great relief job on the mound, and Hank Borowy, who gained credit for the victory, were pummeled all over the place. Andy Parko and Phil Cavarretta, who drove in two runs each, were almost smothered.

Only Manager Charley Grimm was calm. Despite the fact that this victory gives the Cubs a 2 and 1-2 game lead in the pennant chase with but six to play, he was not too jubilant.

"We haven't won it (the pennant) yet," he said, as he sank exhausted into a chair in front of his locker. "We'll celebrate when we do."

Asked where his banjo was, he said: "I'll have it when we win. Not today."

GATE OVER MILLION

Chicago, Sept. 25 (AP)—Unless there's a rainstorm tomorrow, the Chicago Cubs' 1945 attendance will pass the million mark.

Today's crowd of 20,438 paid admissions swelled the total for the year—official paid—to 994,737, just 5,263 short of a million.

PLAYOFF PROVIDED

Chicago, Sept. 25 (AP)—Should the Cubs and Cardinals finish the National league season in a tie for the pennant, it was pointed out today, the loop constitution calls for a three-game playoff series to decide the flag winner.

Under American league rules, a tie would be settled in a one-game playoff.

Four Runs In 4th Give Browns 5-1 Win Over Chisox

St. Louis, Sept. 25 (AP)—The St. Louis Browns put together a walk and four hits, including a double by Chet Laabs, to produce four runs in the fourth inning today to defeat the Chicago White Sox 5 to 1 for Lefty Al Hollingsworth's 12th victory of the year.

In the duel of the southpaws, Lefty Ed Lopat retired after the fatal fourth for a pinch-batter.

Vernon Stephens walked, Laabs doubled, and Frank Mancuso, Len Schulte, Hollingsworth and Don Guttridge drove in the Browns' fourth-inning runs. With the bases loaded in the sixth, Milt Byrnes drew the fourth walk off losing pitcher Johnny Johnson.

$2,880 TOTAL IN LAND SALE

19 Parcels In County
Sold By State At Auction Here

Nineteen of 21 parcels of state-owned land in Delta county offered for sale yesterday by the Conservation Department were purchased at a total of $2,880, it was reported. Only two parcels remained unsold.

Sale of the land at public auction was conducted at the court house in Escanaba yesterday morning by Harold Gibbs of the lands division of the Conservation Department. Bidding was brisk, and sales generally were considerably above the minimum prices set by the state.

Most of the land advertised for sale was purchased by county residents, largely farmers, although there were a few loggers represented. It was one of the briefest state land sales in many years, and was completed within half an hour.

Successful bidders were issued 30-day purchase certificates which entitle them to a deed to the property at the expiration of the 30 days if the property is not redeemed by the former owner. Should the property be redeemed, the successful bidder will have his purchase price refunded.

Former owners have the opportunity to redeem within 30 days by meeting the highest bid, and will then receive title to the property. To redeem the former owner must file an application on forms provided by the lands division of the Conservation Department.

Phone Installing Will Start Soon

New York—Telephone installations in private homes and in offices will follow closely the manufacture of new telephone instruments, switchboards for central offices and telephone exchange cable, it is announced here by Western Electric Company, Inc., which manufacturers most of the materials and equipment used by the Bell Telephone companies. Some of the manufacturing plants are already working on a seven-day week; others will, as soon as conversion from war manufacturing is completed.

The making of telephone instruments for civilian installations was actually re-established in the late summer of 1944, after war needs were met. Over 400,000 instruments have been made since last fall and production is now going on at the rate of 25,000 a week. But even with this production, many subscriber applications cannot be filled immediately because of a shortage of switchboards and cable.

Wheels made of laminated wood were tried out in London subways to lessen noise and reduce weight.
